

Development shaped by place

Purpose-driven real estate development on the North Coast of the Dominican Republic.

WHO WE ARE

A considered way to build on the coast.

ALMARE unites development, architecture and construction around one clear purpose: to create places that belong here and hold their value.

Every project begins with the place and ends with a property designed to remain relevant, useful and valuable over time.

Design. Build. Belong.

Why choose Almare?

One development. One vision.

A single point of view connects the opportunity, the design and the execution.
